

ABOUT ELECTIVE EXECUTIVE PHYSICAL PROGRAMS

WHAT IS AN EXECUTIVE PHYSICAL?

Executive Physicals are top-to-toe physical exams that include a detailed medical history along with comprehensive lab screenings. These elective exams are performed in addition to the annual physical that is covered by your primary health plan. They can be an important way to benchmark your current health status.

HOW IT WORKS

The Ultimate Health insurance policy provides coverage toward these elective pre-packaged Executive Physicals, generally for the member and enrolled spouse.

HOW TO FILE EXECUTIVE PHYSICAL CLAIMS

With this benefit, members pay for the Executive Physical in full and then obtain reimbursement through Ultimate Health.

Like other claims, Ultimate Health does not pay for Executive Physicals at the time of scheduling. The plan will only reimburse after receipt of actual services once your patient responsibility amount has been determined.

To ensure claims have the sufficient information for processing, follow these guidelines:

- » Submit an Ultimate Health claim for reimbursement along with an invoice or a detailed receipt and documentation (letter or signed contract) showing that payment is your responsibility.

Executive Physicals must be conducted at an AdventHealth facility that offers an Executive Physical package as a service line to the community they serve. Here are the current AdventHealth facilities* that offer these programs:

Adventist Bolingbrook Hospital

Bolingbrook, IL

AdventHealth Celebration

Celebration, FL

*Other AdventHealth facilities that begin to offer an Executive Physical service line may be added to this provider list.
